

Marx on Ecology and Health Styles of Life – Covering the Whole Grundrisse again

By Karl Marx – 1876

I. Grundrisse – the impure work against the mathematics of Capital

Reading the impure grain against the pure mathematical exercise of immanent presentation which can make jottings and conjectures on the pure accounts that Americans love and claim solves health. The impure remarks should be made in nature, or natural health and even psychological states or psychoanalysis.

II. Being and Essence, even Concept

So in fact individuals, reflecting on the conceptual meaning of ecology which then is the Grundrisse as a Marxism – it means being mainly, that is what I mean – social being of course, but being and that becomes the totality and phases and periods in the totality – which the Prophet covers with his ecological minister and Soviet Marxists as the health chart of his conditions with Jewish people. In Israel as well, people sit and feel out of sorts for a while and then call it spiritual psychology and spiritual nature which heals when the law is passed after a phase.

This then is Spinoza in Hindi for Buddhists which includes though my materialist conception of history, and nature as ecology in fact.

III. Ecology

Ecology is the study of nature, natural rhythms and even rhythm analysis and its closeness to natural ecological health and even natural states of life and conditions of understanding – Dasein as they say in being in the world of that German Idealism – of course with the rational logic of just that – I mean add my materialism to it.